

Wildlife Wong and the Fig Wasp

BY DR SARAH PYE

"I really love this book. It has lots of different things I like. I got to learn about new things and facts that aren't talked about in school. There are also lots of things that make you laugh and mystery and suspense.
Elke, age 9

"I loved this story so much and learned so many amazing things! I would definitely recommend this fantastic book to everyone, including kids who are home schooling like me, and adults like my mum who loved it too, especially as she's from Borneo.
Reuben, age 9

Wildlife Wong encounters weird and wonderful plants and creatures as he tries to track elusive sun bears in Borneo. Meet frogs that fly, flowers that stink, and ants that can carry their own weight. They are all amazing, but it is the relationship between the gigantic fig tree and the tiny fig wasp that surprises him the most.

What do you think Wildlife Wong discovers?

After the story, learn interesting facts about the mighty and the miniscule characters in the story, conduct experiments and become a scientist just like Wildlife Wong!

"I loved reading the book. It was great and it has a lot of detail in it and has a lot you can learn about the fig wasp. It is fun to read, and I think it is the best book about fig wasps, sun bears and other forest creatures. I think it is a book for everyone to read and enjoy."
James, age 10

Australian author (and avid traveller) Sarah Pye met Malaysian Dr Wong Siew Te in 2012. She asked what she could do to help him save the rainforest. He replied, "do what you do best". Those five powerful words sparked a Doctor of Creative Arts degree, an enduring friendship, and many adventures.
